We've long believed our location is just about perfect for our purpose. Tucked into the west side of Troy on the major north-south connector, (that's destined for even more prominence), it's ultimately walkable to local services and the adjacent park, and still central to all of Metro East and downstate Illinois.

Troy has a virtual hub of interstates that spread from here in all directions, making it easy for you to get to other places, and for other folks to get to you.
